Letter from a Pastor to his People

Dear Parishioners,

"Don't spoil your dinner." That was something I often heard growing up. Dinner starts in about half an hour, there's a pack of frozen White Castle sliders in the fridge, Mrs. Wallace sees her impetuous second son making what he thinks is a clandestine move to the fridge, and resounding through the kitchen comes, "James, dinner is almost ready. Please wait."

So hard for me. I love to eat and when I see something out that looks good — sweets on the rectory counter that a parishioner has dropped off, a week-old slice of Malnati's pizza in the fridge, a delicious pear in a seminarian's hand that he's about to bite into — I'm tempted to grab it and consume. It doesn't matter the day or the hour.

This, as you can imagine, is not good for me. Not just for my health. It spoils what awaits me. And something better usually awaits me.

The best wine at Cana came at the end. The wine in the meanwhile was good, I'm sure, but it wasn't the best. Think about it. If the wedding guests had overindulged on the inferior wine and even become drunk, they would not have been able to enjoy the Lord's vintage.

There are a couple keys to "success" in resisting the shiny object dangling before us.

First is listening to the voice of God. Don't just grab the "food" right before you. Stop and ask God if this is what he wants for you or if he has something better in store so that you should pass for now. My mom saying, "don't spoil your dinner," was like the voice of God or wisdom helping me discern: don't eat the freezer-burned slider, wait for the more delicious dinner of spaghetti and meatballs. We need to pray. We need to ask God what he wants for us. He will show us.

The second key is recognizing that if God is telling us to wait, suffering will ensue. We have to suffer for a brief period of time while we hold off for the main course or the superior wine. But we are strong. We can endure the suffering. And the suffering will be good for us. Not all suffering is bad.

The bottom line is: we don't have to settle. Speaking of marriages, since this Gospel is the Wedding Feast of Cana, we all know of people who "settled" for a partner in marriage. The individual was desperate to marry or was acting out of a place of fear, and they settled on someone they didn't really love and who wasn't good for them. If the individual could have paused, discerned the will of God and endured the suffering of remaining single while still searching for their soulmate, they would have been far better off.

We can apply this to other areas of our lives. It's easier and more instantly gratifying to flip through the phone than read the Bible. It's more rewarding to sleep in or play golf on Sunday morning than go to Mass. More relaxing to say "I'm sorry" to God before falling asleep than going to the Sacrament of Reconciliation before a priest.

Don't settle for these instant rewards. Hold off for the Lord's wine. Sure, take a few sips of the "party wine" in this life, but don't have too much. The Lord's wine waits for you in Heaven.

There will be a First Communion parent meeting on Tuesday at 7pm. Next week, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evening we have First Reconciliation for our 2nd grade school and catechesis students. Please check your emails for any updates.

The Pastoral Council will also meet Tuesday evening at 7:30pm. I want to give a special shout out to Patti Nowak, the PC president. Patti has worked tremendously hard to help ensure smooth operations at the parish, from coaching altar servers, to organizing the ushers for Christmas Masses, to planning Fr. Britto's 40th Anniversary reception last month, and more. I'm grateful to Patti and all the PC members for their help and dedication.

Finally, Saturday, January 22nd is the anniversary of Roe v. Wade. Please say a prayer for all the unborn and for mothers.

Yours in Christ,

Reflections from our Seminararians and Staff

Ethan D. Bryan had a wild idea. An avid baseball fan, he decided to kick off 2018 by asking his daughter to play catch with him. It was a frigid day in Springfield, Missouri, with the wind chill hovering around 1 degree. However, after returning from the local ballpark, his journal entry read: "30 throws, frozen cheeks, warm smiles." When his other daughter heard about their adventure, she asked to play catch that afternoon with her dad, too. 25 baseball tosses later, an idea was born, and thus began Ethan's journey of writing A Year of Playing Catch: What a Simple Daily Experiment Taught Me About Life.

After being introduced to this book by a family friend, I described the premise to Kyle Berceau, who is a seminary classmate of mine and a fellow baseball fan. The conversation that followed was life-changing. "What if we tried this for 2022, and added an element of spirituality by encouraging people to talk about their Faith over a simple game of catch?" It can be with a new friend, an old friend, a family member, a co-worker... heck, it can even be just for fun.

We live in a world that could use a re-awakening of our human nature that is designed for healthy forms of leisure and recreation, in which we perform an activity simply because we enjoy it. Somehow, playing catch nourishes our soul. It's slightly mysterious, like the miracle that Jesus performed to change the water into wine, but it seems like playing catch has a childlike nature that taps into a joy that we forgot we had. Just over two weeks in, I can attest to that with stories like playing catch in the South Dakota cold with my brother on New Year's Day (one toss) to watching a buddy who grew up in Nigeria put on a glove and hold a baseball for the first time. The shared laughs and smiles have already been worth it. I'll have my mitt after Mass if you ever want to play, but go play Catch for Christ with a friend too.

Peace,

Lee Noel, First Year Seminararian

My name is Mary Therese Iacopelli and I am the Assistant Principal for St. Paul. I have been in the Archdiocese for 26 years as an administrator and History teacher. I spent 20 years at Our Lady of Victory and have been blessed to be at St. Paul for 6 years.

I truly enjoyed teaching History and maybe one day I will find my way back into the classroom but until then I can rely on my other passion which is coaching. I love sports (I still play on several teams) and I have been coaching for over thirty years on the elementary and high school levels. I have coached volleyball, softball and basketball. Coaching basketball is definitely my favorite and that is why I am so excited to see that we will be having a longtime favorite – Roundball, return to SPC in March! Seeing that gym packed with so many happy faces and the kids playing their hearts out is just an awesome sight.

Sports can play an important part in our lives. There are so many life lessons we can learn from. Here are a few of my favorites I like to share with my athletes (and students).

You learn more from losses than wins. Losses give us an opportunity to reflect on what went wrong and what we need to change or adjust and that will make us stronger.

The name on the front is more important than the name on the back. It is all about the team. We cannot survive by ourselves. We need others to help us out. We are stronger as a group and the team will always have your back.

Develop a good work ethic. Even the best professional athletes need to work hard and practice their skills. Practice makes perfect. Develop good habits and learn to balance your time. It will pay off in the end.

These lessons are also applicable to our faith. Our Church community (team) also supports us through our losses and challenges in life. Through prayer, reflection and our relationship with God we can grow stronger in our faith.

HEBREWS BIBLE STUDY

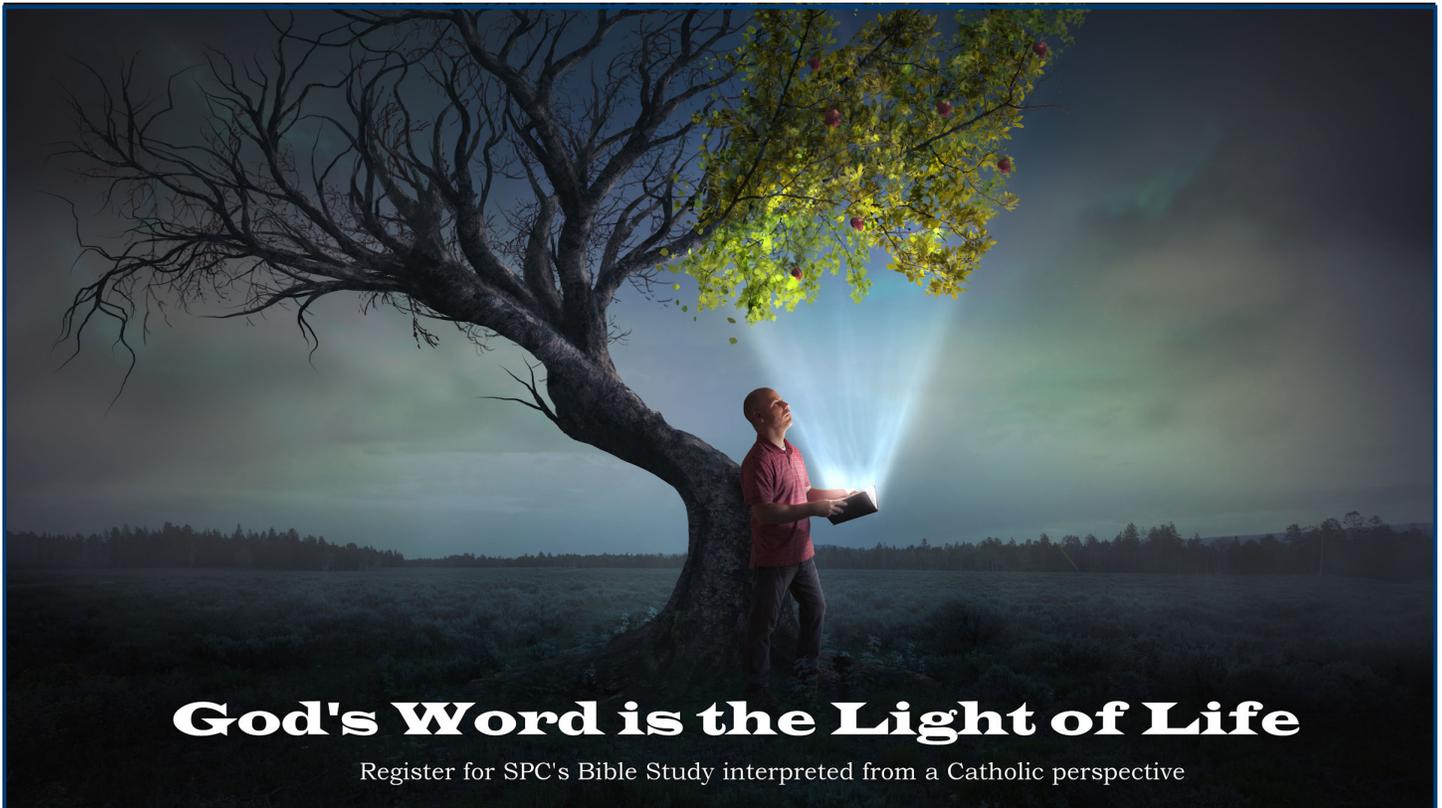

Eight week study begins

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19th at 7:00 pm

or

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20th at 9:30 am

St. Paul of the Cross Duffin Hall

In this study, Catholics will be able to see, appreciate, and take hold of the riches God has given them in the New Covenant. Highlighting the critical distinctions between the Old and New Covenants, Hebrews will help Catholics get to know the generosity of the Father's heart in a deeper way than ever before.

Weekly Study Sequence: Wednesday evenings and Thursday mornings home preparation - Read the Bible and answer the homework questions in the Study Set, which are a way to learn from within the heart of the Church.

Small Group Discussion: Small group discussion begins each class session. Participants share what they have learned and glean from others' insights to get a fuller understanding of the passages they have read, followed with answers provided to the Study Set questions as an aid.

Video Lecture: Follows discussion and presents a Catholic perspective of the readings.

REGISTRATION AND FEES

Student workbooks are $35 and registration is required. To register, please visit our website at www.spc-church.org/biblestudy. FIRST CHURCH CROSSES

When looking through past archive photos, I sometimes find wonderful things to share. When doing an article on weddings, a picture of the first church had a crucifix on the St. Joseph side of the altar. This is the same crucifix that is now located in the St. Joseph vestibule off Northwest Highway. While it doesn't have the prominent position it had in the first church, it now is a place for parishioners to pray in quiet solitude.

A few years ago I was shown the candles and a crucifix that once was on the altar of the first church. A parishioner who had possession of them donated them back to the church. The church has brought them out for the anniversary of the first Mass as well as other special occasions. There are a few statues on the window sills in a couple stairwells that I think might have come from the first church as well.

- 1: Crucifix in its current location off Northwest Highway, St. Joseph side
- 2: Donor plaque below crucifix
- 3: Crucifix and candles donated back to church
- 4: Original location of the crucifix in picture 1 in the first church

MONDAY EVENING OF PRAYER

VESPERS FOR MONDAY, JANUARY 17th

Presider (P): God, + come to my assistance.

All Respond (A): Lord, make haste to help me.

P: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit:

A: as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be for ever. Amen. Alleluia.

HYMN & PSALMODY

Ant.1 P: Yours is more than mortal beauty, every word you speak is full of grace (Psalm 45).

Mary Side of Church (M): My heart overflows with noble words. † To the king I must speak the song I have made; * my tongue as nimble as the pen of a scribe.

Joseph Side of Church (J): You are the fairest of the children of men † and graciousness is poured upon your lips: * because God has blessed you for evermore.

M: O mighty one, gird your sword upon your thigh; † in splendor and state, ride on in triumph * for the cause of truth and goodness and right.

J: Take aim with your bow in your dread right hand. † Your arrows are sharp: peoples fall beneath you. * The foes of the king fall down and lose heart.

M: Your throne, O God, shall endure for ever. † A scepter of justice is the scepter of your kingdom. * Your love is for justice; your hatred for evil.

J: Therefore God, your God, has anointed you † with the oil of gladness above other kings: * your robes are fragrant with aloes and myrrh.

M: From the ivory palace you are greeted with music. † The daughters of kings are among your loved ones. * On your right stands the queen in gold of Ophir.

J: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Spirit:

M: as it was in the beginning, is now, * and will be for ever. Amen.

A: Yours is more than mortal beauty, every word you speak is full of grace.

Ant. 2 P: The Bridegroom is here, go out to welcome him.

M: Listen, O daughter, give ear to my words: * forget your own people and your father's house. So will the king desire your beauty: * he is your lord, pay homage to him.

J: And the people of Tyre shall come with gifts, * the richest of the people shall seek your favor. The daughter of the king is clothed with splendor, * her robes embroidered with pearls set in gold.

M: She is led to the king with her maiden companions. † They are escorted amid gladness and joy; * they pass within the palace of the king.

J: Sons shall be yours in place of your fathers: * you will make them princes over all the earth. May this song make your name for ever remembered. * May the peoples praise you from age to age.

M: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Spirit:

J: as it was in the beginning, is now, * and will be for ever. Amen.

A: The Bridegroom is here, go out to welcome him.

Ant. 3 P: God planned in the fullness of time to restore all things in Christ (Ephesians 1:3-10).

M: Praised be the God and Father * of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has bestowed on us in Christ * every spiritual blessing in the heavens.

J: God chose us in him * before the world began to be holy * and blameless in his sight.

M: He predestined us * to be his adopted sons through Jesus Christ, such was his will and pleasure, † that all might praise the glorious favor * he has bestowed on us in his beloved.

J: In him and through his blood, we have been redeemed, * and our sins forgiven, so immeasurably generous * is God's favor to us.

MONDAY EVENING OF PRAYER

M: God has given us the wisdom * to understand fully the mystery, the plan he was pleased * to decree in Christ.

J: A plan to be carried out * in Christ, in the fullness of time, to bring all things into one in him, * in the heavens and on earth.

M: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Spirit:

J: as it was in the beginning, is now, * and will be for ever. Amen.

A: God planned in the fullness of time to restore all things in Christ.

READING: Romans 8:28-30

We know that God makes all things work together for the good of those who have been called according to his decree. Those whom he foreknew he predestined to share the image of his Son, that the Son might be the first-born of many brothers. Those he predestined he likewise called; those he called he also justified; and those he justified he in turn glorified.

RESPONSORY

P: Just is the Lord, in justice he delights.

A: Just is the Lord, in justice he delights.

P: He looks with favor on the upright man,

A: in just he delights.

P: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

A: Just is the Lord, in justice he delights.

Ant.: P: Unless you give up all you possess, you cannot be my disciple, says the Lord.

A: My + soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord, † my spirit rejoices in God my Savior * for he has looked with favor on his lowly servant. From this day all generations will call me blessed: † the Almighty has done great things for me, * and holy is his Name. He has mercy on those who fear him * in every generation. He has shown the strength of his arm, * he has scattered the proud in their conceit. He has cast down the mighty from their thrones, * and has lifted up the lowly. He has filled the hungry with good things, * and the rich he has sent away empty. He has come to the help of his servant Israel * for he has remembered his promise of mercy, the promise he made to our fathers, * to Abraham and his children for ever. Glory to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Spirit: as it was in the beginning, is now, * and will be for ever. Amen.

A: Unless you give up all you possess, you cannot be my disciple, says the Lord.

INTERCESSIONS

P: Let us pray to the Father, the source of all holiness, and ask him to lead us to holiness of life through the example and intercession of his saints.

A: May we be holy as you are holy.

P: Holy Father, you want us to be called your sons and truly to be such,

A: grant that your holy Church may proclaim you throughout the world.

P: Holy Father, you want us to walk worthily and please you in all we do,

A: let us abound in doing good works.

P: Holy Father, you have reconciled us to yourself through Christ,

A: preserve us in your name so that all may be one.

P: Holy Father, you have called us to a heavenly banquet,

A: through the bread that came down from heaven make us worthy to grow in perfect love.

P: Holy Father, forgive the offenses of every sinner,

A: let the dead perceive the light of your countenance.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

CONCLUDING PRAYER

Father, you called Saint Anthony, to renounce the world and serve you in solitude in the desert. By his prayers and example, may we learn to deny ourselves and to love you above all things. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, God, forever and ever. – Amen.

May the Lord bless us, protect us from all evil, and lead us to everlasting life. Amen.
